

7521263311.txt

I support net neutrality and I'm against creating two tier structure for the internet speeds. We DO NOT want cable companies to determine and regulate speeds for the content we want to see. There is little competition among cable providers to begin with, and changing net-neutrality rules will only enhance the monopoly structure.