

We as citizens of democratic country (for the people, by the people and of the people) demand for open Internet without any interference or restrictions on what, how, where and which should be relayed over it. Especially no involvement from cable companies who already monopolize their market and doesn't have competitors in the same area where they operate. They are the worst service providers in the nation and already creating a rift between content where it's coming and going. It'll harm uprising businesses or startups who cannot afford to pay big bucks just to deliver their content at the same speed their competitors are delivering. Internet was always an open medium to deliver content and without Net Neutrality it'll be a stab on our democratic rights.
