

7521310195.txt

Net Neutrality is crucial to upholding the rights of the people. While not explicitly a part of the Constitution, Net Neutrality is key to the 1st Amendment's freedoms of speech and press. The internet has become a tool like the voice and should never be muzzled.