

7521310232.txt

If not for Net Neutrality we might not have some great companies that we now have no eBay no netflix no hulu no facebook ect These companys could now pay for the fast lane but what about the next upstart Facebook might not have made it if myspace was the only one to afford the fast lane