

7521318259.txt

The unique nature of the internet is founded in its inherent equality, if you destroy this with a new scheme involving slow/fast (fast/turbospeed) lanes you will utterly destroy the very foundation of this technological marvel that has brought all of humanity closer to a degree that has never been seen before.

please be responsible and remember that the internet is the great equalizer it makes men into giants and giants into men, none of this would be possible with internet data shaping or fast lanes. please do not destroy this amazing thing, please let us continue making the future for humanity for society and for information brighter by ensuring that the internet utilities are classified as common carriers and not giving them even more than the already tremendous amount of power they already have over individuals.

please represent the people who want freedom not the corporate monopolies who want greed and power by ensuring that net neutrality stays in place and that all data is treated equally