Locking away the "good" technology for the ones being able to pay more is throwing us backwards in the technology evolution. Especially when it comes to slowing down the current speeds people are using.

This also horrobily inflicts firms which arent large from keeping a webpage up due to extracosts, it is always healthy for a marked to have a lot of compederters in the same field.

Internet can make human ty come close to eachother, do not allow this option to be restriced to how much monney people make.

Stop this big mi stake which is in the happeni ng!
