

7521329623.txt

The current system is not ideal. In my area, there are only 2 possible providers for Internet service. In my previous address, there was only a single provider. The current system essentially allows for monopolies over most of the country for a very essential service. The Internet is an absolutely necessary ingredient in today's world and more effort should be taken to allow for everyone to have a good experience.