

7521329928.txt

I am absolutely committed to maintaining net neutrality where all data have equal access to the internet. I am absolutely opposed to any rules changes that allow faster and slower lanes. All access should be equal. The only way the FCC can ensure this is to reclassify the internet to make it just like telephone service.