

7521330488.txt

The proposed rules would allow ISPs to choke traffic to websites that do not pay for premium access. The idea that allowing a corporation which exists almost solely to make money to police itself is insulting to the people. Protect the open internet?do not allow you decision to be swayed by the lobby that does not represent the people.