

7521330565.txt

Please do not create a tiered internet where internet providers can leverage connection speeds to extract concessions. This will hurt the internet in many more ways than one. The internet has been this successful thus far because it has been open and fair. Let's not change what is broken. I support net neutrality because it supports and spurs innovation while helping protect the internet user from abuses. It's common sense and profit should not win over people.