

7521330627.txt

The internet is a wonderful place that has allowed thousands of companies to be created and connected with the people. If the net were to change and lose its neutrality, large companies and corporations would dominate the internet. As we have seen by cable companies in the past, we know that they can not be trusted on their promises. Please help small businesses and start up companies thrive by maintaining NET NEUTRALITY.