

7521331870.txt

Do not get rid of net neutrality. Internet providers are already overcharging in America and providing significantly slower service than they could. If you give them another, easier way to cheat the American populace out of money they will do so.