

7521332041.txt

Net neutrality is a necessity for the function of the internet as we know it. Enacting the legislation that is on the table will topple the system that is currently present through diminished download and upload speeds. The digital infrastructure will inherently be negatively impacted. Do not give the cable companies the right to throttle our internet speeds and create these "fast lanes". It's just plain wrong