

7521334043.txt

I urge you to support net neutrality. There are increasingly fewer places in American life that have genuine competition and where there really is a level playing field. The internet is far too powerful a tool to be controlled by a handful of companies as is currently the case with broadcast.

Please do the right thing, FCC, and support net neutrality.