Ending Net Neutrality would be a slap in the face to EVERY person who is not at the top of the food chain of verizon or comcast, time warner etc. Even the low level employees at those organizations would suffer. The ONLY people who would benefit from something like that would be a handful of already wealthy people who somehow justify that fucking over an entire nation of people is worth it for their already deep pockets to get deeper. Not only that, but it would prove that everything that President Obama has told voters about protecting main street and having the interests of the people at heart is nothing but a full blown lie, straight from his mouth to the people. It's a middle finger from the government to the people they govern saying fuck you, we don't care about you, we care about the money that lobbyists like Comcast are paying us.
