At this time I want to show my support for RFD TV and Rural TV. I am an avid viewer of RFD TV through my provider, Dish TV. I have found that RFD TV is very informative and also enjoy the shows on farming and also antique farm equipment as I was raised on a farm and now own and farm a small farm. Not only is RFD TV and Rural TV a true American company and business it provides an educational route for those still involved in rural life and farming. It also allows those that were not or are not fortunate to be raised in the country to see where things like their food and other things come from. Again I support the FCC's support for RFD TV and Rural TV.

Respectfully
