

7521342397.txt

This would systematically privilege established companies, thus creating a barrier to entry and making it more difficult for small enterprises to get off the ground. This would be disastrous for American innovation, the economy, and dampen our entrepreneurial spirit.