

7521342622.txt

The Internet was supposed to be the great equalizer - the arena in which anyone and everyone has a voice. Net Neutrality is freedom of information - taking that away is taking away a basic human right.