

7521344816.txt

Seriously, you would actually consider destroying net neutrality. As if politicians and the government here aren't corrupt and embarrassing enough, our government proposes this. Give it up, stop trying to control everything in our lives. we are struggling enough to recover from the war, recession, and overall greed of corporate U.S. If we really by the people and for the people, this will not stand.