The United States was created on the idea of equality. And for a hundred years after its founding Labor Unions were still not allowed to be created and push for their right, and when the government put in place the sherman anti-trust act against big business it didnt effect big business but labor unions. and finally big businesses were struck down but it took till nearly the early 1900's and in 2014 we have a problem of Monopolies. Instead of doing anything against these huge monopolies the government is letting these major players who have no competition *defition of a monopoly* to make it so that they could never have competition by destroying the possibility of smaller groups from growing. It tooks years upon years to fight for right against big business and it still is not over and ending of net neutrality would be just a giant step for the giant businesses who already hold a huge monopoly.
