I think RFD is a very beneficial channel to a lot of Americans, even to urbanites, because many have families in rural settings. The programs on RFD are the only place many of us can get these types of showings. To me the programs are for the viewing public to be enjoyed, not from an urban conglomerate, in other words, it's for the masses watching, not the mass sending. RFD is one of the most watched channels in my house.
