

7521347040.txt

Net neutrality is essential to making sure that I have access to essential internet sites - for example my work. I am a Medical Doctor, and I while I return home, my work may not be complete. I need to access patient information via the electronic medical record via the Internet. The majority of practices/smaller hospitals would find it a major burden to have to pay fees to have fast access to medical records. And having fast access is crucial for adequate patient care.