

7521347520.txt

Monopoly of the internet is tyranny in the highest degree. Protecting net neutrality is essential to sustaining the democratic ideals of freedom our country was built on and depend upon. Letting companies pay for privileged status is just like letting the rich eat while the poor starve. But, in our country, we would never tell a person that because they are financially strained that they do not deserve food, we help, support, and provide for them. Do not let the monopolist of the internet overshadow the importance of the countries citizens.