

7521354951.txt

I support net neutrality and oppose any changes in the law that allow internet providers the ability to deliver some data faster than other data based on what the data provider is willing to pay.