

7521362366.txt

Internet connectivity is a right, not a privilege for the wealthy. If we really don't want people to be in poverty then we need to give everyone equal access to the resources they need to get a good education &/or a job. You need the internet as a resource for your education. You need it to get a job.