

7521363337.txt

For once stop letting corporations throw money at everything and doing whatever the hell that please. The only people who aren't for net neutrality are people who stand to gain billions of dollars from it. The average citizen is for net neutrality!