

7521363935.txt

If you go through with this, a new Internet will form under your nose. One designed by us. One designed to blot out corporate sponsorship. And you will never be allowed to take part of it. WE ALL all this advertising and data mining and other corporate bs to happen because it is a trade off for content. But we will no longer stand for corporate interests telling us what we can and can not experience.