

7521371210.txt

I believe that it is imperative to keep the internet open and non-tiered. Any system of allowing certain companies the right to obtain faster internet speeds over others or over individuals would convert what is currently an egalitarian access system into an oligarchical structure. Please do not stoop to the pressure of large corporate interests and their lobbyists. Keep the internet open and equal. Energy would be better spent getting our access speed up to that of South Korea for all.