

7521373126.txt

The internet should remain open and neutral. ISPs should be reclassified as common carriers. Without open internet, it takes away the checks on the power of the ISPs and damages entrepreneurial innovation.