

7521373267.txt

Free and open access to the internet has offered humankind the most expanding and positive experience in generations. Those possibilities should never be vulnerable to discrimination. Reclassify broadband Internet access as a telecommunications service, and save Net Neutrality.