

7521374499.txt

Myself, and lots of people within 3 miles of me have been waiting on DSL to be available at our homes for years. Satellite Internet is a joke, with its ping time, it's pretty much impossible to game with, and data caps (also with cell phone services) it makes it impossible to do what everyone does with the internet (streaming music/video).