Dear Sirs & Madam's of the FCC:

If there has ever been a time when I felt I should speak up for a cause above and beyond exercising my voting rights as an American, the threat of discontinuing Rural Television is one that most definitely warrants my attention.

I am not a full-time farmer or rancher, however, I enjoy part-time ranching away from my corporate day job. My kids have been involved in 4-H and FFA their entire lives. We raise livestock on our small family farm which my kids also use as their projects. The effects of children growing up in this environment today makes for a very "well-rounded" kid with excellent skills, work ethic and common knowledge. Both of my kids are also excellent students and ranked in the top of their class.

RFD TV is a blessing and privilege in our family because it promotes the livelihood of what we as farmers and ranchers mean to this country and the world. RFD TV also serves as an excellent education source for those outside of Rural America seeking more knowledge about what we do and where their food comes from.

I'm asking you to please continue to support Rural Television and grant RFD TV a permanent place in our country's programming.

Respectfully Submitted,
Jason L. Harris Family
