

I wish to object in the strongest possible manner to the TimeWarner-Comcast merger. Both companies, already monopolies, have chosen time and time again to abuse their positions, increase rates constantly and provide markedly poor service and customer support. The mind reels at the thought of these companies becoming an even larger monopoly in a much larger area. The proposed merger cannot help but stifle innovation, exacerbate the current customer service issues, competitiveness and result in higher prices for the already abused consumer.