

7521493776.txt

This is to express my support for an open and free internet. Exclusivity, restrictive practices, faster 'lanes' on the internet for those able to pay, and the ability of the big telecom companies to further choke off the democratic principles behind an open internet... these very real consequences are assured unless the FCC and Congress re-classify the internet as a 'public communications utility' and assures the public that we will continue to benefit from the essential nature of this technology.
Thank you.