Dear FCC,

My name is zac verdan and I live in waukesha, WI.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it users may have fewer options and a less diverse Internet.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The internet provides everyone with so much information, limiting it would limit the knowledge that we can share with the world, it would be a giant step backward.

Sincerely,

zac verdan
