Re: Telephone Number Portability, et al., CC Docket No. 95-116, WC Docket Nos.
07-149 & 09-109

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Telcordia Technologies Inc., d/b/a iconectiv (“Telcordia”) hereby submits a supplemental response to Neustar, Inc.’s (“Neustar”) letter of July 8, 2014, objecting to confidentiality designations in documents Telcordia filed with the Commission on July 1, 2014.¹ One of Neustar’s objections related to a study by Transaction Network Services (“TNS”) addressing the feasibility of selecting multiple Local Number Portability Administrators. As Telcordia previously explained, it marked this study as Confidential because the TNS study was conducted, authored, and copyrighted by TNS and had not previously been made public.² TNS has subsequently authorized Telcordia to file the unredacted study as part of the public record in this proceeding. Accordingly, Telcordia has submitted the study under separate cover. Telcordia trusts that this resolves Neustar’s objection as to this document.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mark D. Davis
