

7521593801.txt

Reclassi fy ISPs as common carriers:

The internet is a vital information source for our democracy - akin to the news and post that our founders explicitly fostered and protected. A change to common carriage, while controversial, would ensure fundamental access for the public.