My comments in connection with the Comcast merger... I am in strong opposition to the merger as I am confident pricing will go up. Living in Los Angeles, we have felt the consequences of large media conglomerates and the increase in costs and the limitations with programming. Currently, I am a Cox customer and no longer can enjoy the Dodgers due to the stalled negotiations with Direct TV... I think this is prelude to what we as consumers will experience with the Comcast merger-- fewer options, higher cost and zero competition. The FCC has an obligation to look after the interests of consumers and not corporations!
