Dear FCC,

My name is Chris Gaston and I live in Satsuma, FL.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it ISPs could have too much power to determine my Internet experience by providing better access to some services but not others.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The internet is important to me because i am a creative. I like to create ideas, videos, and other such things. To limit certain websites would be to limit my right to create.

Sincerely,

Chris Gaston
