

7521675210.txt

The fight for net neutrality is a fight for freedom of speech. It's a fight for the common person. It's a fight against corporation having yet more sway on our lives. The internet with net neutrality is a free internet, a fair place; it is the greatest bastion of fairness and freedom in a sea filled with governments and corporations trying to control the masses. The internet help topple corrupt governments and give voice to those that otherwise would have none.

You're not fooling us, the internet fast lane is not net neutrality. It is the beginning of the end for everything the internet is about.

If you continue to push this plan, you are harming us all greatly. This will hurt you, your family, your children, your grandchildren; this is taking away the voices of the people and their access to free information.

Don't do this.
-Andrew Frayser