

7521675885.txt

In a democracy the press must be free and accessible to every citizen. It is the internet that gives access to those who follow what is going on in our world on the Net, and now it includes, justly, those who would lose access if they are not in a position to participate when Net Neutrality is lost.

It is unjust in a free society to discriminate, and what is now being proposed is unjust. Reclassify ISP as common carriers for the good of our society.