

7521676700.txt

Net Neutrality is ridiculously important for so many people - small businesses, individual entrepreneurs, and even regular joes who just want to browse the web and check their email. The only way America can compete in the global marketplace is with proper internet regulation... and the ONLY proper regulation is to classify internet as a public utility.