

7521678056.txt

Anything but classifying internet as a common carrier is a humanity crisis. It is not up to us how information flows, that is why we keep calling ourselves a free society. If we move to this tiered system we will be sending a clear signal that we are completely disregarding the constitution.