

7521678166.txt

Net neutrality is one of the primary reasons that Internet start-ups have been able to thrive, contributing billions to the U.S. economy.

If we allow the Internet to become privatized, the barrier to success for new companies will be raised, putting a damper on this important driver of our economic strength and health.

I urge you to reject any form of "fast lane" proposal.