

I am against the acquisition of Time Warner by Comcast. The service for years provided by Comcast as a company has not been and continues to not be in the best interest of the consumer and providing good service. The price has only continued to rise as they publicly stifle competition by any means and disregard complaints from consumers about service provided. Comcast has done nothing to address these concerns and the recent news proceedings only make that more evident and bring into the public light what consumers across the United States in Comcast service areas have known for decades, they provide horrible service at an inflated fee with no worry of retention as they have a legal monopoly (Oligarchy) as a service provider with no competition, so if you want service you have no choice but to put up with them.

Please do not approve the purchase of Time Warner by Comcast as it is only a step, no a leap in the wrong direction of best interest of Cable/Internet consumers everywhere.
