Dear FCC,

My name is Viana Ferguson and I live in manchester, NH.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it ISPs could have too much power to determine my Internet experience by providing better access to some services but not others.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

I'm a entrepreneur myself and I think of ideas on how to utilize the internet all the time. Without equal opportunity those ideas are nothing.

Sincerely,

Viana Ferguson
