

7521701138.txt

The open internet is a great example of the freedom that this country is based on. And the proposed selling of prioritized access is a horrific example of the precariousness of that freedom. You can clearly see the will of the people in this.