

7521701217.txt

Don't let the big ISP corporations weasel out of the REAL solution by offering lucrative-to-them solutions. The internet must be free! We cannot allow tiered privileged speeds to exist on the internet. Letting this happen seems innocuous at first, but dire unforeseen consequences will inevitably ensue. The ISP companies should instead be focusing on expanding the internet pipelines to make things faster, so we don't need to charge for tiered lanes of speed. Please FCC, consider this plea!