

7521701291.txt

Net Neutrality supports small businesses. Being able to build a low-cost website that loads just as fast as any other website encourages competition between online businesses, which is good for new, small businesses and the business world in general. Please don't let the cable companies screw everything up by selectively slowing down parts of the internet for companies that are little and can't afford to fork a ton more money over.