

7521701365.txt

Please keep Net Neutrality. I believe that information, and access to information, is key to our society and identity as citizens of the United States. No corporation should be able to impose limits on that information. I believe that we have the right to seek all knowledge without impediment. If we see only what companies want to see because we can't afford more access, what does that make us?